

G. S. HOCKEY TEAM WINS

Defeated Norwich University in a Fast and Rough Game

SCORE ON LOCAL RINK 6 TO 3 YESTERDAY

Birlliant Playing of Capt. La Casse of Local School Was the Feature

Goddard seminary inaugurated its hockey season with a 6 to 3 victory over Norwich university yesterday afternoon in Barre. Notwithstanding the frigid weather a large gathering of hockey enthusiasts banked both sides of the new ice pen.

On even terms the two teams fought through the first period and with scarcely seven or eight minutes to play, in the last session the score stood even, 3 to 3. Then, a concerted movement by the local skaters was brought into action and to the bewilderment of the cadets three goals were scored by the seminary. This movement was headed by Capt. La Casse, who cut loose, and displaying his cunning last season, made a series of sensational dashes down the rink that resulted in two of the three seminary scores in this period.

La Casse was the individual star of the game. His playing did not stand out so conspicuously yesterday as on occasions last winter because of the fact that he is surrounded by a stronger team. On the new rink the dribbling of the Derby liner was an advantage, and by cleverly executed dashes he could evade the Norwich forwards at will, making the defenders of Norwich's net bear the brunt of his drives.

Roughness was in evidence several times and no less than six were disqualified for intervals of two minutes for resorting to rough tactics. An aspect of fierceness hovered over the contest during excited spasms, resulting in two minor injuries and several spills over the pen fences.

La Casse has two able mates in Feeley, a new comer at the seminary, and Cosby, who control forward positions. Abair, who hails from the land of hockey, by his watchfulness and his ability to block the puck, is a worthy sentinel for the seminary seven.

The soldier band was headed by Richmond, who has had several years of experience with hockey at Norwich. He excelled for the soldiers. The stickwork of Mahard topped two of the visitor's three points. A sleeper was a power of strength in their backfield.

When about five minutes of the first half was consumed Richmond sent the puck sailing into Goddard's net on a long shot. Goddard's first score was made by La Casse. Coming out from behind the Norwich net he suddenly wheeled around, shooting the puck past Higgins without opposition. Goddard forged ahead when Cosby, from a scrimmage in front of the net, pushed the disc in for tally No. 2. La Casse registered the seminary's third score during the latter part of the half, shooting the puck from the sidelines. Mahard netted the cadets tally during the closing minutes of the half.

Norwich started the final half with

A Valuable Suggestion

IMPORTANT TO EVERYONE

It is now conceded by physicians that the kidneys should have more attention, as they control the other organs to a remarkable degree and do a tremendous amount of work in removing the poisons and waste matter from the system by filtering the blood.

During the winter months especially, when we live an indoor life, the kidneys should receive some assistance when needed, as we take less exercise, drink less water and often eat more rich, heavy food, thereby forcing the kidneys to do more work than nature intended. Evidence of kidney trouble, such as lame back, inability to hold urine, smarting or burning, brick-dust or sediment, slow complexion, rheumatism, may be weak or irregular heart action, warns ble.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

To-Night the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company Will Appear.

From the Pacific to the Atlantic coast the verdict has been the same as regards the Pollard Juvenile Opera company and that verdict has been "delightful." It is a well known fact that young folks in operatic work who have been properly trained are far more convincing and natural than are adults and the Pollard company, being composed of artists whose ages do not pass the nineteenth year are shining examples of the wisdom of this statement.

The Pollards have all been upon the operatic stage since earliest childhood and are possessed of a most marvelous degree of magnetism and natural ability along musical comedy lines. There are fifty of them and they sing such operas as The Toy Maker, the Mikado and Sergeant Brue with much greater success than could possibly accompany the presentation of the same operas by adults. There is a singular freshness and delightful quality to their voices and the comedy vein possessed by these youngsters is really marvelous. The Pollards come to the Barre opera house to-night and will present Edmond Audron's famous success "The Toy Maker."—Adv.

Klark-Urban Company.

No company traveling today has a more enviable reputation than the well known Klark-Urban company, who will appear at the Barre opera house for six nights and Saturday matinee commencing next Monday evening. The company is headed by Miss Maisie Cecil and Harden Klark and the supporting company is large and well balanced, containing in its roster some of the best artists in the theatrical profession. It is perfectly equipped with all the attributes necessary for first-class performances, every play being presented with all special scenery, electrical effects and beautiful and expensive wardrobe. The following is a list of plays presented during the engagement, "The Man of the Hour," "Wildfire," "The Sign of the Four," "Raffles," "The Golden Rule," "The Dairy Farm" and "Northern Lights." The following high class vaudeville will be introduced at each and every performance. The ring came back by parcel post, having been found by Mrs. Kirby in the first cookie she ate.

Committee Favors Compensation Act.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The workmen's compensation act, passed by the Senate and declared by President Gompers of the A. F. of L., the "most just and equitable bill ever proposed by any country," will be favorably reported to the House for final enactment within the next week, Chairman Clayton of the judiciary committee said yesterday.

PAGE BILL ADOPTED

Wins Out in the Senate by a Majority of One

APPROPRIATES $14,000,000.00

For Agricultural and Trade Educational Work in Country

Washington, Jan. 30.—Senator Page's vocational educational bill, authorizing maximum appropriations of over $14,000,000 for agricultural and trade educational work, was adopted by the Senate yesterday as a substitute for the Lever-Smith bill, which passed the House.

A fight extending over many days ended when a motion by Senator Page of Vermont, to substitute his original for the Lever bill was carried by a vote of 31 to 30. The measure then passed the Senate and will go to the House and ultimately into conference committee.

The Page bill would establish courses of instruction in trades and industries, home economics and agriculture in the various public schools of secondary grade; provide for state agricultural schools, testing and plant breeding stations; education of teachers and general extension work.

It is believed as a result of the action of the Senate yesterday, the agricultural education measure may remain in controversy between the two houses when the present session ends.

CIVILIZATION IN ANCIENT MEXICO.

Harvard Professor Finds People Had Means of Reckoning Time.

Washington, Jan. 30.—Mexico and the countries of Central America enjoyed a civilization when all the remainder of the western hemisphere was sunk in darkness, according to Prof. Alfred M. Tozzer, of Harvard university, whose treatise on Mexican manuscripts was made public yesterday by the Smithsonian institution.

The investigation found that the ancient peoples had their own methods of counting time by means of crude calendars and that their evolution from recording events through picture writing into actual phonetic writings is distinct.

"Unfortunately, the material available is very limited," Prof. Tozzer says, referring to the scarcity of manuscripts. "The number of manuscripts is exceedingly small, for through their earnest efforts to stamp out the religion, ancient doctrines and teaching of the natives, the Spaniards destroyed a large number of these manuscripts."

The paper, which is regarded as a distinct addition to the world's knowledge of the ancient American peoples, is published by the institution as an addition to its annual report of 1911.

FEED COWS; STARVE CHILDREN.

This Is the Practice of American Farmers, Says Wiley.

Greeley, Col., Jan. 30.—"People do not know what to eat. Farmers take more care of their cows than they do of their children. Half of the children of the United States are starving, and under the very shadow of the nation's capitol, there are 177,000 who are underfed. The very foundations of the government are threatened."

These are the views of Dr. Harvey W. Wiley as expressed in an address here. Suggesting a remedy he laid great stress on the nutritive value of wheat, a pint of which, ground fine and made into milk, is sufficient, he declared, for the breakfast of four persons for as many days.

TURKEY'S REPLY TO THE POWERS.

Ambassadors Believe It Will Make For Peace.

Constantinople, Jan. 30.—Turkey's reply to the note of the powers will be handed the Austrian ambassador today.

The diplomats here are favorably impressed with the information received respecting the reply and are sanguine the Turkish counter proposals will serve as a basis for a settlement, or at least will permit the resumption of negotiations.

NO OPPOSITION TO KING.

But Council Decides to Postpone Action on Pardon a Week.

Boston, Jan. 30.—No opposition to the granting of a pardon to Cardenio F. King, former financial agent of Boston and New York, developed at the hearing before the pardon committee of executive council yesterday.

The council decided to postpone action on the petition for a week that members might make individual investigations.

Wilson Ends Conference.

DEMOCRATS TO CONTROL

Election of Saulsbury from Delaware Insures Majority

OF TWO IN THE U. S. SENATE

Contests Still Exist in Three States, Outcome Doubtful

Washington, Jan. 30.—With the election yesterday of Willard Saulsbury United States senator from Delaware, the Democratic strength in the next Senate swung from the precarious figure of 48, or exactly one-half of the Senate to the safer total of 49, a majority of two.

Saulsbury's election added to the victory recently secured in Tennessee assures the Democratic party of absolute control of the Senate after March 4.

Contests still exist in the legislatures of New Hampshire, West Virginia and Illinois with a total of four senators to be elected about whose political affiliations doubt exists.

A victory in any one of these states would so materially strengthen the Democratic party that the Senate would be completely removed from the element of uncertainty.

Bass Gains in New Hampshire.

Concord, N. H., Jan. 30.—A break of 10 Democrats from their own candidate, Henry F. Hollis, to Robert P. Bass, Progressive, was the feature of the balloting for United States senator in the New Hampshire legislature yesterday. Mr. Bass' vote increased from 21 to 31 and Mr. Hollis' fell to 16. Edward N. Pearson, Republican, had 157 and the scattering votes numbered 29.

Democrat Elected.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 30.—William H. Thompson of Garden City, Democrat, was elected United States senator to succeed Charles Curtis by the Kansas legislature in joint session yesterday.

REPUBLICANS LOSE IN SENATE.

They Fail to Force Another Executive Session.

Washington, Jan. 30.—The conflict in the Senate over the Connecticut river dam bill has been postponed because of the deadlock over President Taft's nominations. It is still brewing, however, as was indicated yesterday when Senator Jones of Washington introduced an amendment to the effect that the secretary of war must leave with him an agreement in which full authority is given to the state of Connecticut to contest and regulate rates. Senator Brandegee of Connecticut read a telegram from the Springfield board of trade urging the absolute necessity of the immediate passage of the bill.

By a tie vote, the Republicans of the Senate yesterday lost in their effort to force another executive session to reconsider President Taft's appointments. Democratic leaders forced a rollcall, and with the aid of Senator Brewster and Senator La Follette, Republicans, and Senator Poindexter, Progressive, prevented the Senate from resuming the conflict.

IN THE FIELD OF SPORTS

The management of the St. Louis Browns are not troubled with hold-outs this year. No member of that organization would dare be a hold-out, for he would be worthy of capital punishment.

James Thorpe, the greatest athlete in the world, has been stripped of all the titles he has seized through amateur standing in the past few years because of his admission of professional charges. It is with regret that the news was received throughout the world. Thorpe will not be connected with the athlete at Carlisle in the future, the possibility of his signing up for the coming baseball season with one of the major league clubs is looming up. Admirers of athletics will never forget the wonderful performances of Thorpe, whose sensational football playing, his versatility on field and track events and his general all round athletic ability have amazed the world.

Pittsburgh's chances appear as bright as those of Chicago in the National league this year, so Artie Hoffman is not so dissatisfied with his berth in Smoketown.

A guarantee of $1,000 has been offered to Al Palzer by promoters at Atlanta, Ga., to meet Jim Savage, the heavyweight fighter from New Jersey.

The fastest trotting mile on record belongs to Uhlman, which was made at Lexington, Ky., October 12, 1912. Uhlman ran the mile with a wind shield. Dan Patch holds the mark for the fastest mile ever paced. Dan Patch paced the mile at St. Paul Sept. 8, 1908, using a wind shield and pacemaker at his side and one in front.

"Heinie" Wagner, captain and shortstop of the 1912 world's champion, has signed his contract for 1913, which means that he will again lead the Red Sox. Wagner passes his winters at New Rochelle, N. Y.

James McGinley, an old New England league pitcher, has been engaged to coach freshman baseball at Princeton college this spring. This is the first time a professional coach has been secured for the freshman team in several years.

A trio of three letter athletes are now attending Dean academy at Franklin, Mass., who are Oliver Wescott, Raymond Grant and John Hanlon. Wescott comes from Malden and plays baseball, football and basketball. Grant also participates in these branches of athletics. Hanlon, who hails from East Syracuse, N. Y., takes part in track, football and baseball.

Jimmy Callahan has come forth with a declaration that Harry Lord, the former Red Sox player, will return to the White Sox this spring. Callahan also declares that Lord will play third base, although many will be surprised to see Rollie Zieder, who played third base during the latter part of last season, ousted from his rank.

At Kansas City a six day bicycle race commenced this week, in which will appear the best talent of the land that is not participating in bike races across the pond. Walter DeMara of Cleveland, one of the entries to the race, will not appear because of blood poisoning.

The Ohio state league will open this year on May 8, which is considerably later than in former years.

Within the course of a few days Norwich university will publish its football schedule for 1913. It is said that Manager Smallman's schedule consists of games with Harvard, Dartmouth, West Point, Brown and Holy Cross.

Because four games scheduled by the hockey team for this winter at New Haven have been abandoned a move is on foot to institute a new $30,000 rink. The new rink should give great impetus to the ice sport at Yale as all the year there has been no ice to play on.

Connie Mack will attempt to place his son, Earl, in a managerial position in the Carolina association. Mack is trying to land the Raleigh club. Young Mack has been in professional baseball for two or three years playing in the Tri-state league and in the New York state league. Last season he was manager of an independent team in Atlantic City.

Chaanooga will be represented this year by a team that will bat for 279 according to Kid Eberfeldt, its manager. The Washington club of the American league, since its regeneration, appeals to many promising youngsters. Manager Griffith has signed Baldomero Acosta, the sixteen-year-old outfielder from Cuba.

Joe Tinker persists that he will get Johnny Kling for the Cincinnati Nationals. Tinker is said to be willing to give a young catcher and an extra outfielder for Kling.

Roger Bresnahan is one of the most popular ball players in the country and also one of the richest. Bresnahan was recently awarded $12,000 from the St. Louis Cardinals in settlement of his claims against the owner of the club. Bresnahan received $5,000 a year from the Giants during his service under McGraw, aggregating $25,000. While he was with the Cards he netted $30,000 and through his regime at Chicago he will receive more than any other player in the country, supposed to be around $10,000 a season. Bresnahan is one who knows where to tuck the coin so it will produce dividends.

Princeton's withdrawal from Intercollegiate hockey league practically leaves the organization on an unstable basis. The Princeton withdrawal follows that of Yale, which took effect early in the season, leaving only Dartmouth and Cornell on the list. Hereafter Princeton will play independent games like Harvard and Yale.

Fleider Jones, one of the "deathless" in baseball, says that it will take Frank Chance three years to bring the Highlanders into first division and by that time he will have received such knocks that he will have lost all ambition to place the team a winner. At the same time Jones admits that Chance is one of the greatest managers ever connected with baseball.

Jack Johnson, the colored heavy weight fighter is the cause for the increased public sentiment that is prevailing throughout the world to-day against the negro fighter. Johnson's attitude during the past year has greatly hampered the colored fighter's chances of winning exorbitant stipends. The only countries where the blacks remain in favor are France and Australia. In Great Britain and America the propaganda to exclude negroes championship titles is receiving favorable comment from boxing critics.

Chapman, during his short stay with Cleveland in the latter part of last year, stole ten bases in thirty-one games. Chapman is a promising youngster going to Cleveland from Toledo. Great things are expected of Chapman in the larceny line in 1913.

"Win" Snow, one of the most prominent athletes at Dartmouth college, has left college for an indefinite period. Snow was called to his home at Winthrop, Mass., by the illness of his father.

One of the classic races ever pulled off indoors has been assured at New York Wednesday night when Alva Meyers, Ira Davenport, "Ted" Meredith, "Tom" Halpin and Jim Rosenberger line up for the "Suburban Quarter."

Jim Thorpe appears to be in hard straits regarding the recent accusations of his professionalism. For some time past minor assertions have intimidated him but within a week someone has popped up, who claims he figures in a professional baseball trade down south. All are in hopes that he will acquit himself of the allegations.

Gene Woodburn, one of the Cards' pitchers, is a ventriloquist and is said to have had plenty of fun whenever he appeared in the box with Roger Bresnahan on the receiver end. According to a story told by his fellow players, he would throw his voice toward the plate and startle Bresnahan with the remark: "Roger, you lobster, what are you good for anyway?" Bresnahan, hot tempered as usual, would throw off his mask and look around him for the person who insulted him. The climax was reached one day when Woodburn was batted from the box and was retreating to the bench after making Roger run around in circles. "Gene" said Bresnahan, "put on your street clothes and mingle with the stands. If you catch the guy that has been roasting me, grab him and let me know."
